AcuScen

WHAT IT IS:

The Scenar unit is an electronic healing device invented by a team of Russian scientists in the 1980's for use in space where cosmonauts would have a means of treating themselves in orbit, without the need to take drugs.

This method of alternative medicine combines the age-old experience of Eastern Medicine with technological advances of our century.

The actual unit works by stimulating the brain with a constantly varying signal that causes it to instruct your nervous system to generate Neuropeptides, the key biochemicals needed by your body to heal itself. In other words, the body heals itself by using its own reserves.

Because of its unique biofeedback capabilities and ability to stimulate the neuropeptide-generating c fibers of the nervous system, the treatment constantly achieves results that amaze people all over the world.

A summary of results in different clinical groups on 50,000 Scenar doctors and other practitioners produced the following results:

Circulatory	82%
Musculoskeletal	79%
Respiratory	84%
Ear & Mastoid	82%
Gastrointestinal	93%
Eye and Adnexae	93%
Genito-urinary	89%
Mouth/Jaw/Saliva Glands	91%
Gynecological & Obstetrics	78%
Depression	95%
Prostate Hypertrophy	98%
